

FAQ

How do I know if my child needs ABA therapy?

If your child is being treated for autism or developmental disabilities, chances are they can greatly benefit from ABA therapy.

What can I expect to pay for ABA therapy?

Little to no copayment. CBS is recognized by most insurance carriers and is reimbursed directly from the carriers.

What is the signup process for ABA therapy?

After you make a simple 5-minute phone call to our intake department, we contact your carrier on your behalf to obtain qualification for our services.

In what areas are CBS therapy programs active?

CBS provides ABA therapy, parent training, and related services to families across the New York and New Jersey communities.

How many hours per week will ABA therapy fill?

Based on the BCBA's assessment of the child's needs, CBS implements 10-20 hours per week making a tangible difference in your child's progress and retention of critical skills.

Does CBS provide ongoing child supervision?

We breed a collaborative care environment to work with you, the parent. Our BCBA's also supervise as our highly skilled aides execute your child's treatment plan.
